

SUCCESS PLANNING:

10 GUIDING PRINCIPLES

connecting all students to what they need to thrive in and out of school

RELATIONSHIP-DRIVEN

Build a system of adult “navigators” who know students well and have the capacity to develop individualized plans and facilitate children’s access to supports.

EQUITABLE

Eliminate systemic disparities that disproportionately affect students of color, low-income children, those with learning differences, and English learners.

STUDENT-CENTERED

Empower children and youth to discover and pursue their academic and non-academic strengths and interests, set short- and long-term goals, and identify needs.

PERSONALIZED

Celebrate each child’s assets and use a customized approach to create a plan and identify individual strengths, interests, and needs.

COMPREHENSIVE

Connect with a wide array of academic, health, and other support services to meet the needs of children and youth from cradle to career.

ACTIONABLE

Establish clear strategies, processes, and structures for identifying and delivering supports and services to each child and youth both in and out of school.

CROSS-SECTOR

Provide coordinated, comprehensive services by creating a clear structure and establishing collaborative relationships with partner organizations across multiple sectors.

INFORMATION-DRIVEN

Utilize feedback and data from multiple sources, including students, families, and a diverse set of agencies, to regularly assess impact on multiple outcomes and enhance the quality of services provided.

SECURE

Use digital platforms that meet high standards of data security and protect student and family privacy.

SUSTAINABLE

Identify long-term funding sources and create organizational structures to ensure consistent implementation over time.
