

Engaging the Community

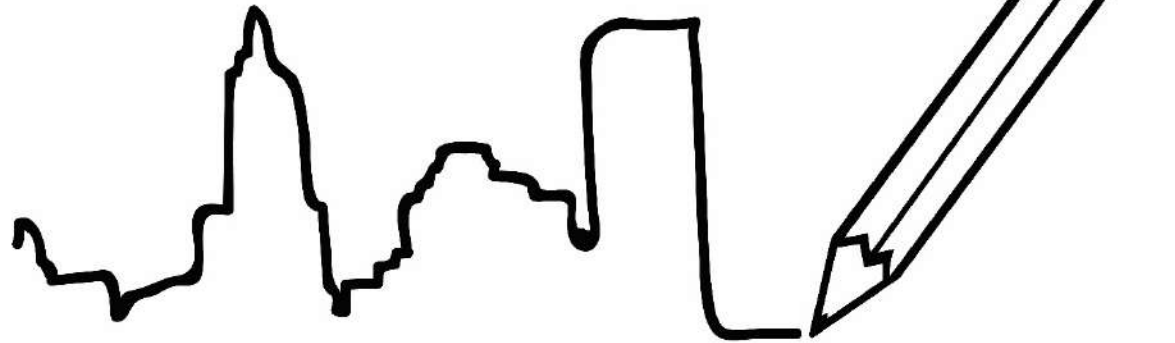

Facilitator:

Paul Reville - Founder & Director, Education Redesign Lab

Panelists:

- Somerville Mayor Joseph Curtatone
- Adeola Oredola - Providence Public Schools

ALL IN

PROVIDENCE EDUCATION SUMMIT

Our Core Beliefs

- Students must be at the center.
- We must acknowledge and elevate our city's diverse strengths.
- We must address both interpersonal and systemic forms of oppression.
- We must take on an equity-based framework if we want to create lasting change.

Our Goals:

- Connect with others interested in supporting our schools to build excitement about improving education at all levels
- Develop a shared understanding of the different ways race and social equity impact our schools
- Learn about current citywide education initiatives
- Identify ways to be involved in improving our city's schools, and make both individual and organizational commitments
- Provide input to shape citywide goals for our education system moving forward

Overview

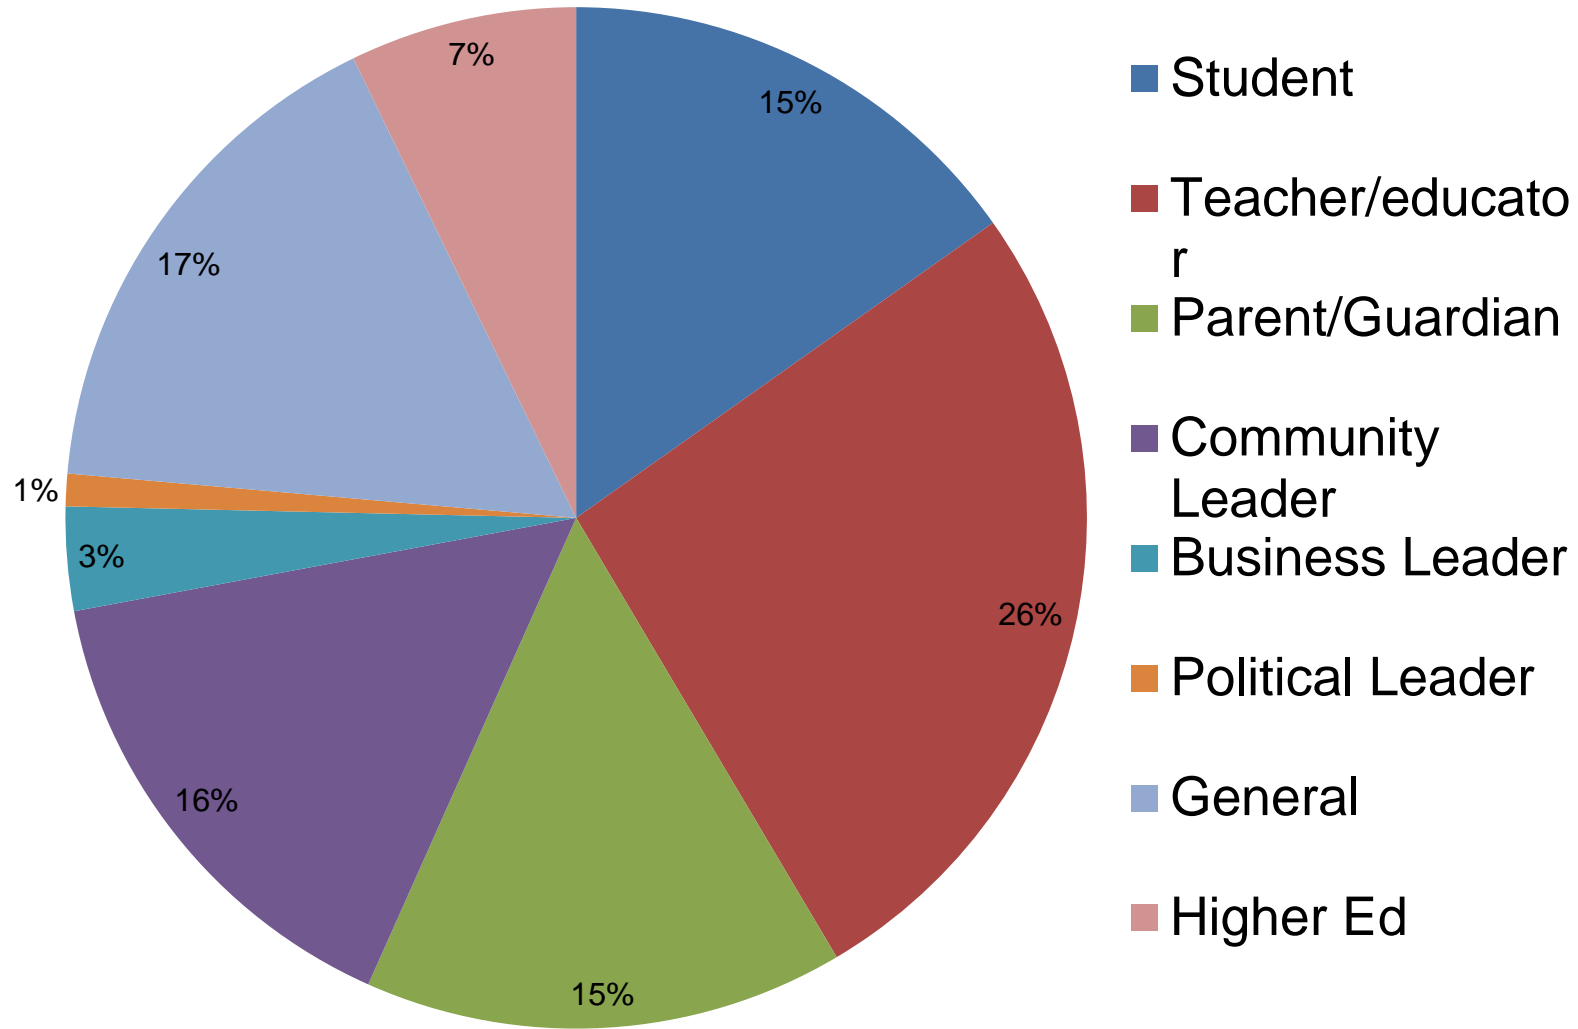

- Opened with Dominican Breakfast, an interactive activity hosted by Youth In Action, and a performance by Sidy Maiga and his African drum circle.
- Developing A Shared Vision for Our Schools - Interactive table conversations. Began by sharing our “core beliefs,” tying in key themes from first activity to provide context, and make connections to the PPSD strategic plan.
- Breakout sessions focused on taking action together. Topics included:
 - Improving Facilities District Wide
 - Cultivating Culturally Responsive Learning
 - Improving Outcomes for ELL
 - Strengthening Diversity and Inclusion
 - Leveraging Community Partnerships In Schools

Quick Facts

Total # of participants	339
Total # Registered	487
Total # of participants that did not register in advance	99

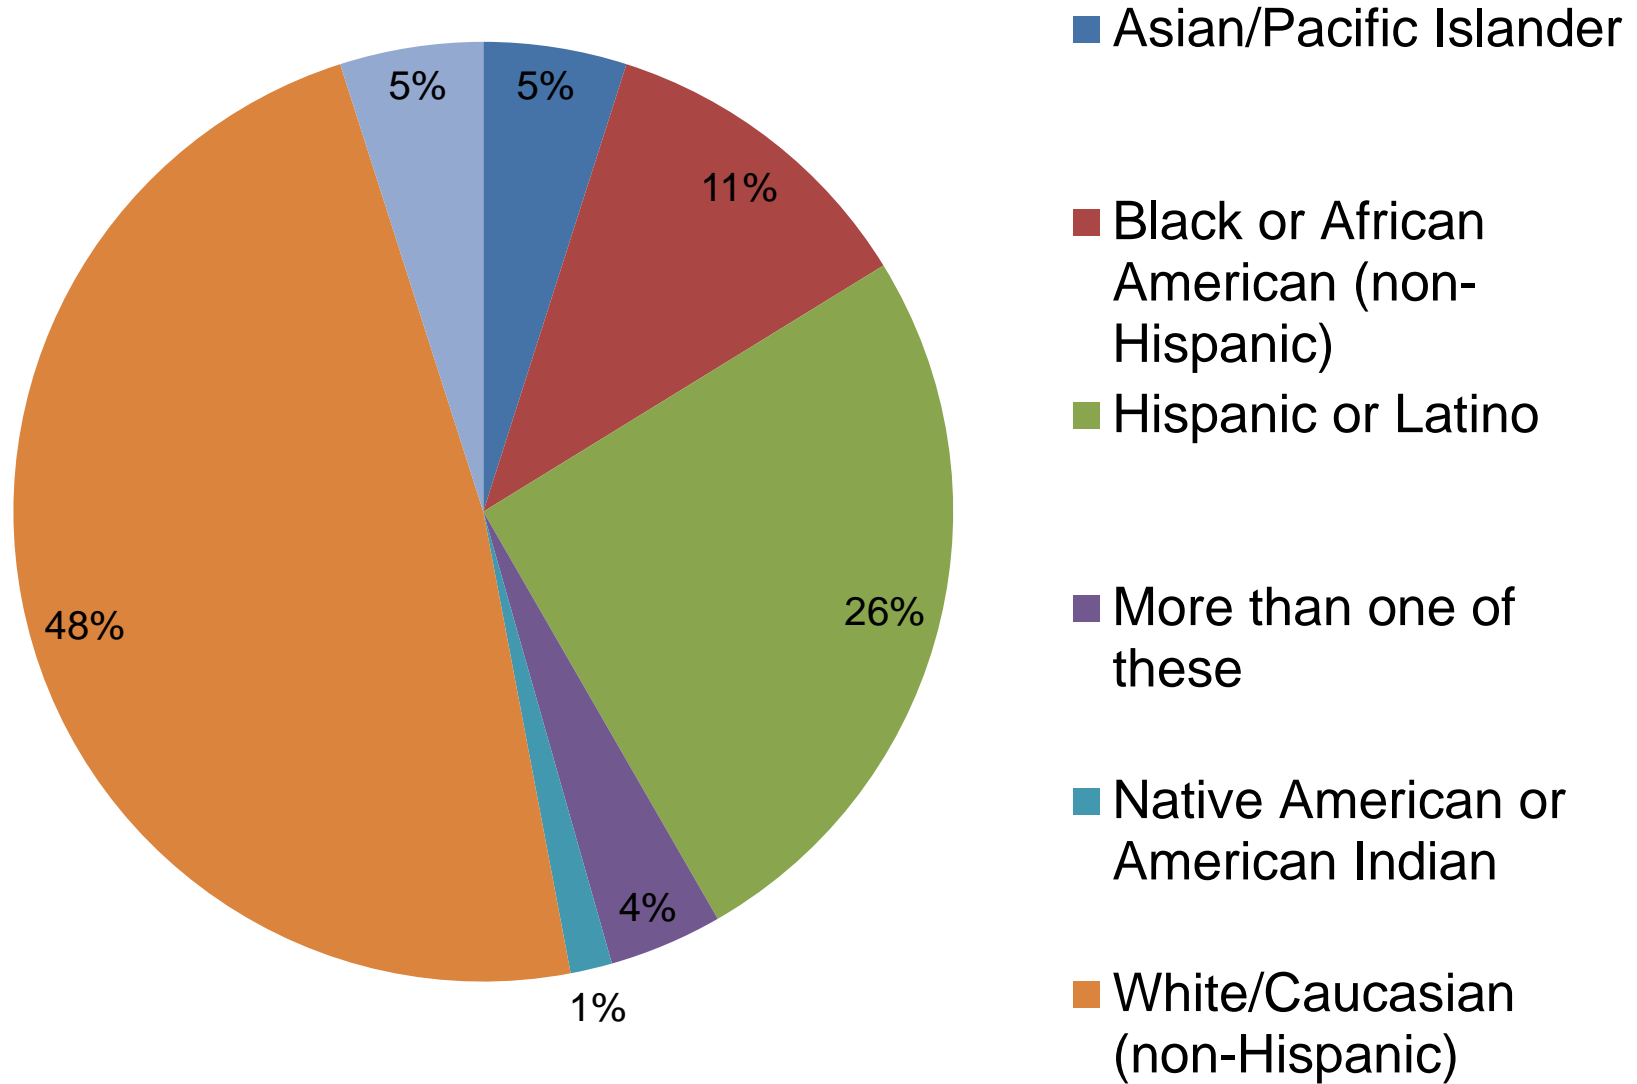

All In: Providence Education Summit

Ticket Breakdown

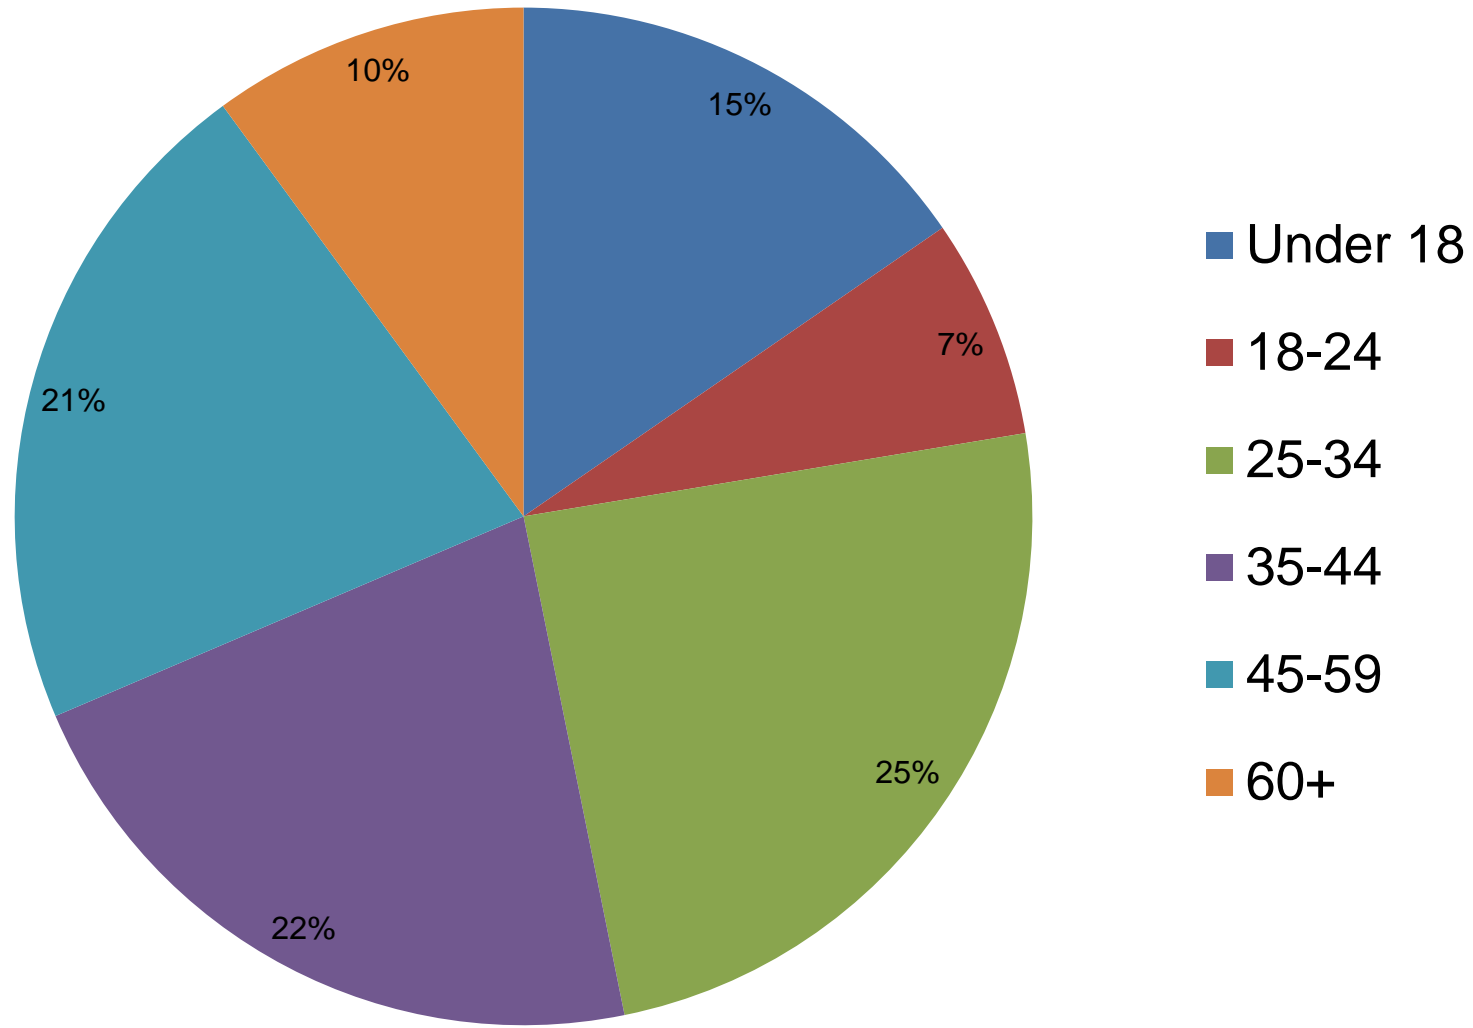

All In: Providence Education Summit

Race/Ethnicity Demographics

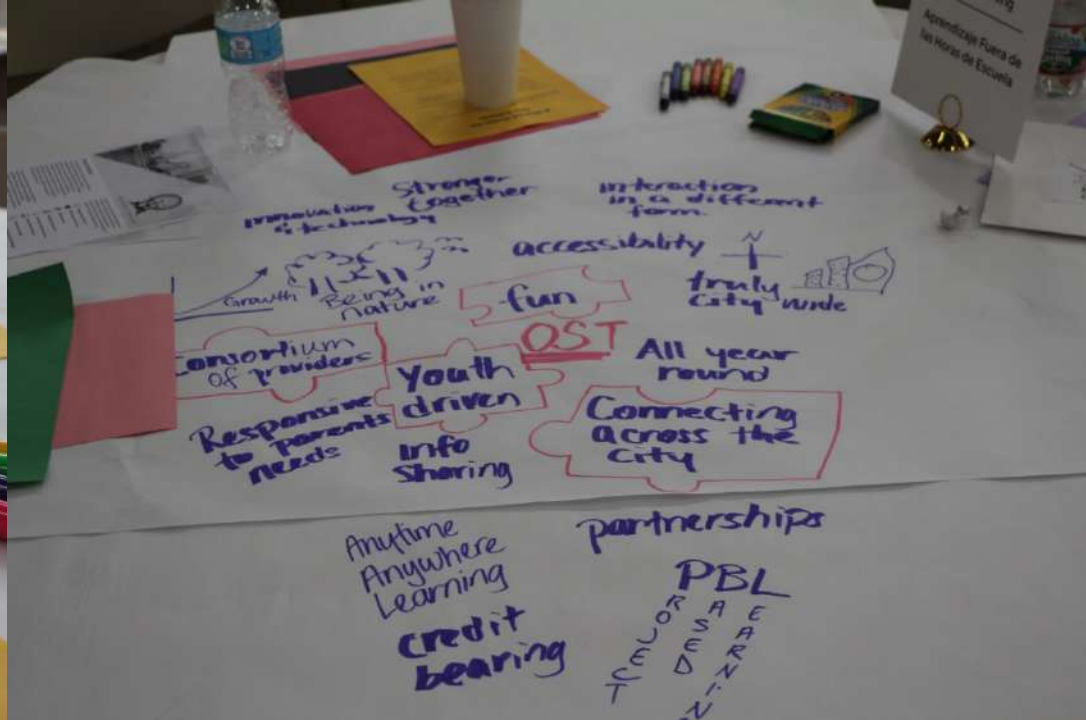

All In: Providence Education Summit

Age Demographics

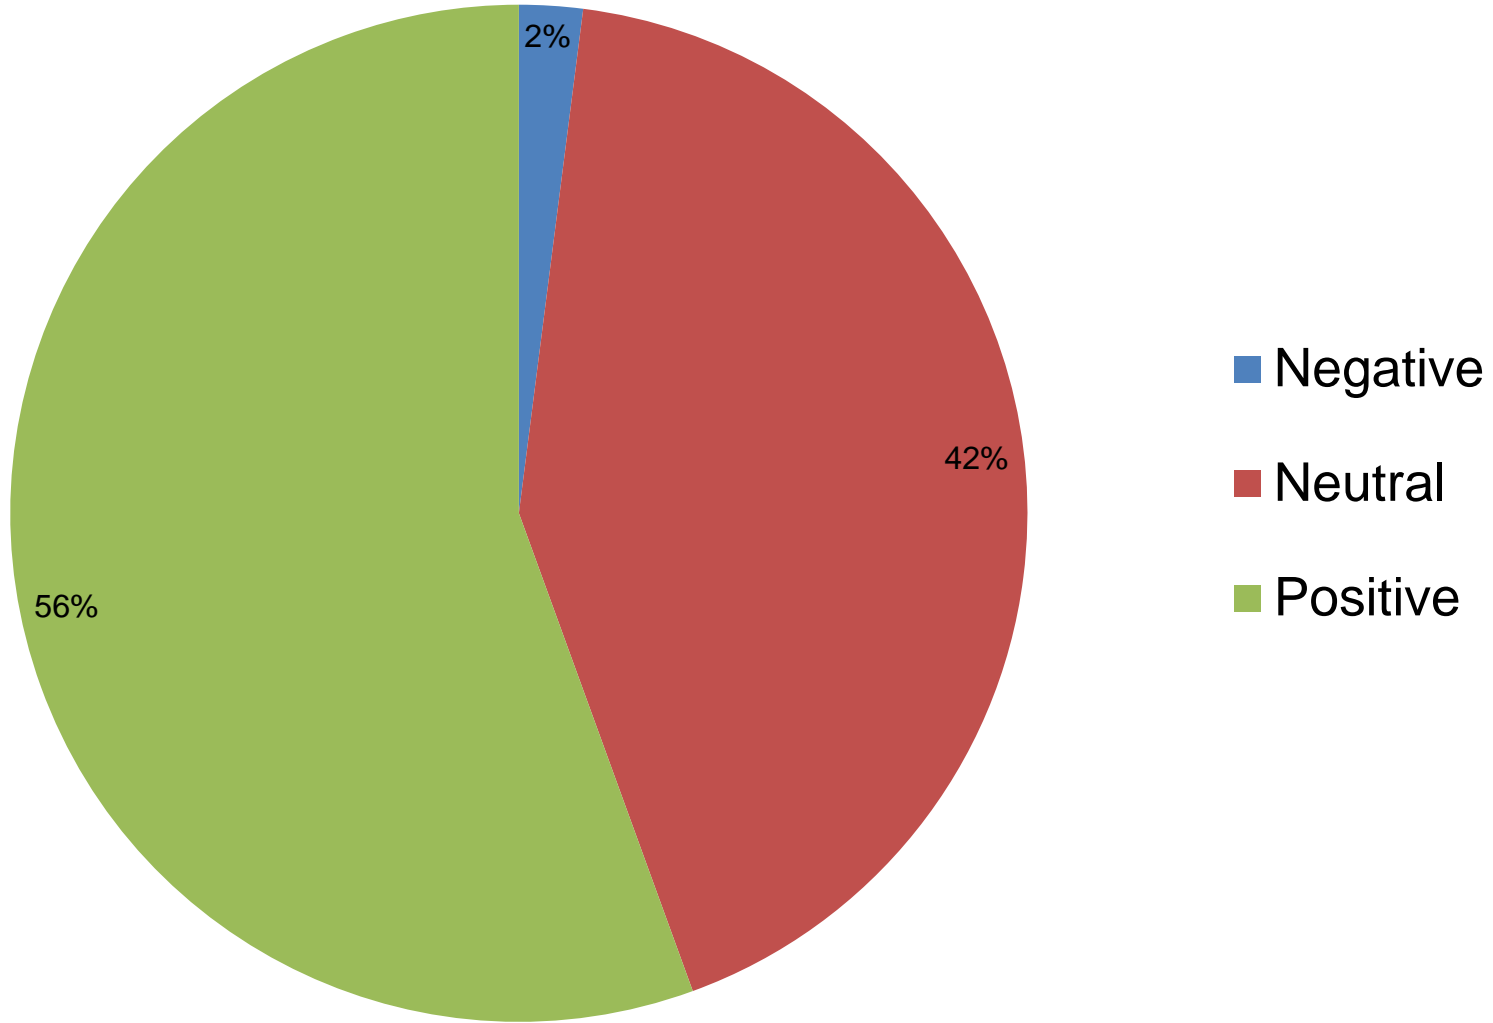

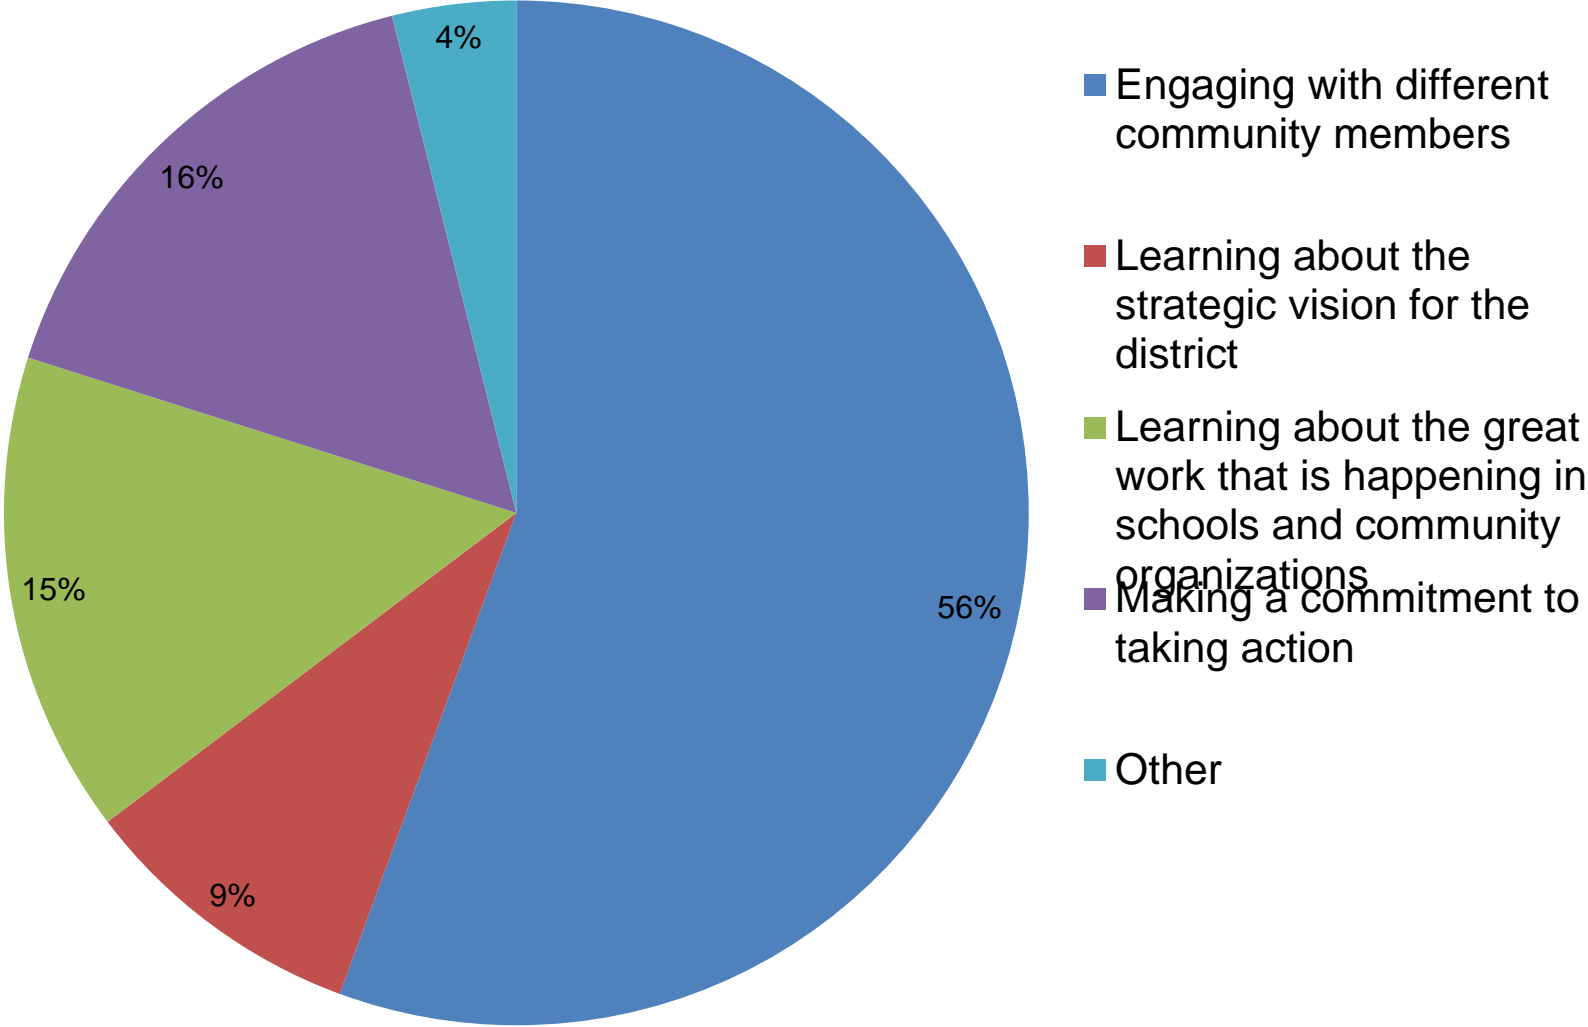

Feedback & Outcomes

All In: Providence Education Summit Overall

All In: Providence Education Summit

Most Valuable Part of the

All In: Providence Education Summit Likelihood to remain involved

